VOLUME XXXVIII NO. 82.

STANFORD, LINCOLN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1911.

EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

WHISKY ELECTION CALL THROWN OUT OF COURT.

Judge Bailey Holds Petitions Filed
By Wets Invalid For Lack of Sufficient Names.

Lincoln county will not have a local option election on December 18th to see whether saloons shall be opened again or not.

The wets' petition asking for an election, was thrown out of court by County Judge Bailey Saturday at noon upon the showing made upon the petition from Waynesburg precinct No. 1 where the drys had succeeded in knocking enough names off the wets' original petition to invalidate the petition from this district. The drys brought the petitions in Waynesburg No. 1 from 161 down to 75 names according to their figures, which brought the petition below the 2 per cent required by law to be obtained from each precinct in the county before an election could be held. The drys had made a hard fight to knock out the wets on Rowland precinct, but Judge Bailey ruled that the wets had enough names in Rowland after all the petitions and counter petitions had been considered, and then the drys brought up their case from Waynesburg. Men from the West End who were here Saturday said that had the drys lost in Waynesburg, they would have won out finally in Hintonville No. 1 precinct, as they claimed to have taken enough names from the wets' petition in that precinct to invalidate the call.

The fight over the petitions for an election was very hard fought in county court between the wets and dry forces. Prominent men in both causes were present in court on every day of the county court after the hearing of the case began on Friday morning, the hearing being an adjourned session of County Court. Attorney George D. Florence represented the wets and put up a strong battle for his clients, contesting every inch of the way.

He was assisted in defending his case by a number of the prominent wet leaders including J. G. Weatherford, Alex. Newton and W. O. Speed of Hintonville, Dan and Claude Hester, of King's Mountain, J. W. Aery, George Logan, C. V. Gentry, J. C. Lynn, Mat Martin, Pryor Camden, and others of Stanford. Among the dry leaders who materially assisted the two attorneys in their side of the fight were N. W. Fowle, Wyatt Smith and Craig Camden, of Rowland, J. H. Baughman, D. M. Walker, J. J. Dickey, G. D. Weaver, and others of Stanford, J. M. Reynolds, Hender Gooch, Jas. Wheeler, Thos. Phillips of Stanford, Ben. Ferrill, Rev. W. S. Willis, George R. Pruitt, G. W. McKinney, George Riffe and others of the West End.

It required almost a full day to dispose of the Rowland case and nearly as much more for Waynesburg. At Rowland Judge Bailey forced those who had signed as many as three petitions to come into court and say which way they wished to be counted. Several elected to remain on the wet petition while several came over to the drys. Some rather sensational features were developed in the hearing of the Waynesburg case. The first was when T. N. Terry swore on the witness stand that his name had been forged to the wets' third petition in that precinct, and that he had not authorized the signatures. And then it was brought out by the testimony that one of the zealous drys paid $2 each for signatures to counteract the wets' petition. Judge Bailey, who sifted every circumstance in detail so as to give each side a fair and impartial hearing and decision, took off the name of Mr. Terry from the petition to which he had been forged, and also refused to count the names of the four men who are said to have been paid to go on the drys' petition.

The Hintonville petition of the drys, which was said to have taken off more names than either of the other two precincts which were taken up, was not presented by the drys.

MORGAN'S STATUE

To Be Unveiled at Lexington On Wednesday.

The unveiling of the monument erected to the memory of General John Hunt Morgan and his men, which will be held in Lexington, Ky., on October 18th will be an event of wide-spread interest. This monument which is given by the United Daughters of the Confederacy has cost $1,000 to produce and it and not only as a memento of the great Confederate General, but also as a beautiful remembrance of the splendid efforts of these still more splendid women who have toiled faithfully in the work of raising the funds with which to defray the expenses of erecting the monument.

The unveiling ceremonies will be a fitting climax to the great convention as the United Daughters of the Confederacy which will be held in Lexington this coming week. The ceremonies are of a very elaborate character and include General Basil W. Duke and Major Otis Penny.

Masters of Ceremonies, an invocation by the Reverend William T. Panch, an address of welcome by Mayor John Skoin of Lexington, an address by Governor Augustus E. Wilson, an address by the State President of the U. D. C., Mrs. L. McK. Blakemore, a prayer by the Reverend E. O. Guernant, the benediction by the Reverend John R. Deering. Besides the above the chief address of the occasion will be delivered by Dr. Gay Carleton Lee of Baltimore, Maryland.

Immediately before the unveiling ceremonies, which will take place on the famous court house square where the monument has been erected a session of the convention will be held in the Woodland Park Auditorium and where a parade of magnificent proportions will be formed, including the members of Morgan's Men, Confederate veterans, State officials of the United Confederate Veterans, the Monument Committee, Convention Delegates, the Governor and his staff.

This monument is an Equestrian Statue, said to be the finest of its character in existence today; it is the work of Signor Pompeo Coppini. It is cast in bronze and is placed upon an imposing pedestal of the choicest granite. General Morgan's brother pronounces the statue a remarkable likeness of the great General.

Ink Spots.

These troublesome stains may be removed by an application of equal parts of citric acid and cream of tartar melted on a plate. Mix and rub over the stains and then wash out carefully. In almost all cases the ink will disappear at once without injury to the color. Stains that have been longed may require several treatments before they yield.—Woman's Home Companion.

JUSTICE HARLAN

Dies At Washington After Long And Distinguished Career.

Associate Justice John M. Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court, died at Washington Saturday morning. Justice Harlan was 75 years of age. Often proclaimed the great constitutional authority of the day, once a conspicuous figure in national and Kentucky republican politics and long a leader in Presbyterianism.

Justice Harlan was one of the most distinguished citizens of the nation.

He had been ill less than a week of an attack of influenza.

Mr. Harlan was married in 1856 to Miss M. F. Shanklin, daughter of John Shanklin, of Evansville, Ind., to which union six children were born. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and took an active part in all matters connected with the work of this denomination, having been vice moderator of the General Assembly in 1905.

Justice Harlan was a man of commanding figure and striking personality, with a high order of administrative ability. He was an attractive and forcible speaker, and as a lawyer ranked with the ablest in the country.

Justice Harlan leaves three sons and two daughters. James S. Harlan, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission; John M. Harlan, a prominent attorney of Chicago who at one time was candidate for Mayor of that city on the Republican ticket; Dr. Richard C. Harlan, a Presbyterian minister at Washington, D. C., and Misses Ruth and Laura Harlan.

Justice Harlan's great ambition was to serve until next June, when he would have exceeded the service of any other man who ever sat on that bench. His service was longer than that of any other justice except Chief Justice Marshall and Associate Justice Stephen J. Field. Fields was the longest service—34 years 6 months 10 days; Marshall's 34 years 5 months and 5 days; Harlan's 33 years 10 months and 25 days. His service did not exceed that of Justice Story, who was on the bench 33 years 9 months and 23 days.

Justice Harlan was born on the first day of June, 1833, in Boyle county, Ky., received an academic education, was graduated from center College, Danville, Ky., in 1850 and prepared for the bar in the law department of Transylvania University where he had the benefit of instruction under two of Kentucky's greatest chief justices—Robertson and Marshall.

Justice Harlan was defeated for Congress, in the Old Ashland district by 67 votes in 1859 became a colonel in the Union Army and was elected Attorney General of Kentucky in 1863. He was twice defeated as the republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky the second time by McCreary and after setting upon the Louisiana Commission which took the presidency away from Tilden, was appointed an associate justice of the Supreme court by Hays.

FREEDOM CHURCH MEETING

The revival at Freedom church conducted by Evangelist Hubbard, closed Sunday night October 15th with about 90 additions to the church of Christ most of them coming from the Christian Church. Bro. Hubbard is a splendid preacher and teacher having few equals for clearness of statement and force of argument. The largest audience at this place for years have been in attendance, numbering at night from 500 and 700 people.

We cheerfully endorse Bro. Hubbard as a Gospel preacher and Christian man. May the Lord bless him in the good work to which he is so devoted is our prayer.

GOOD MEETING AT ELLISBURG.

J. B. Jones pastor of the Baptist church of Stanford recently conducted revival services at the Baptist church at Ellisburg, Casey county. Rev. A. S. Jeffries is the pastor. The meeting resulted in 12 for baptism 2 by relation 2 by letter and 9 restored to fellowship of the church. The whole church seemed greatly revived and benefited. There were good congregations at every service. The school near the church was dismissed each morning at 10 a. m., and marched to the church. Several of the children were converted and joined the church.

It was joy and pleasure to be with the Ellisburg people and to enjoy their kindness and hospitality. Some of the finest crops of corn and tobacco I have seen this year are on Big South. They are enterprising up-to-date farmers, fine business people.

POWERS FOR APPELLATE JUDGE

In Event of O'Rear's Election Is Rumor at Barbourville.

The Barbourville News published in Caleb Powers' home town, said last week:

Will It be Judge Powers?

It is rumored that Judge O'Rear will in case of his election as Governor, appoint the Hon. Caleb Powers as Judge of the Court of Appeals to fill the vacancy created by his elevation to the Governor's chair. He hopes this is not true, as we do not believe that Mr. Powers has had sufficient experience in the legal profession to qualify him for so important and so responsible a position. Judge from the influence exercised by Mr. Powers in the Louisville Convention we are not at all surprised that such a deal may have been made.

STANFORD SCORES 13 TO 0 AGAINST SOMERSET

Local High School Boys Win Their First Foot Ball Game of the Season.

The plucky team of Stanford High School went down to Somerset Saturday and in a classy game of football defeated that high school by a tune of 13 to 0. The local boys displayed true mettle, for they played full time or 15 minutes to each quarter. The ball was first kicked off to Stanford who advanced the ball about 20 yards. At no time was the ball on dangerous territory for Stanford. For the first three quarters there was no score made and the ball exchanged sides many times, most of Somerset's gains were made on forward passes but none of them seemed to avail anything. Harris Coleman intercepted two or three of their forward passes in classy style in the third quarter Embury made a beautiful run for a touch down but Somerset claimed no goal although no opponent touched or got nearer him than 3 yards. He was obstructed by Reinhart his own man but went on to the goal unhindered. The play was made on a forward pass. However, the down was not counted.

In the fourth quarter, some of the best playing was done, Harris Coleman made two touch downs on end runs and McCarty kicked one field goal from the 35 yard line, this making a score of 13 to 0 in favor of Stanford High School. The Stanford boys did some good playing but made a few costly fumbles thus reducing the score. Clinton Coleman played the first two quarters at right guard and McCormack played the last two. The players all did fine work and a very fast game will be had here next Saturday when the strong team from the Kentucky School for the Deaf will play on the home grounds. A good crowd should and doubtless will be present to cheer the players on to victory. Waters as quarter back and Thomas Coleman at full back can always be relied upon to play a steady game Reinhart and Spalding Hill at ends promise to develop into the best material. Joseph Hill and Will McCarty as tackles may always be depended upon to do their part Silas Anderson, Logan McCormack and Clinton Coleman as the guards are new men who show good strength. Wesley Embury still holds his speed and agility and Russell Brown may be classed as old regularity at Center rush. Prof R. S. Lingenman has been doing some satisfactory coaching as the team work will show.

For the opposing team James Coleman as full back, Converse at end and Hunsing at guard did good work. Come next Saturday to see the game with the K. S. D. Admission 25c.

Prof. Lingenman was referee for Stanford and Prof. Tustison umpired for Somerset. Prof. J. W. Ireland manages the team and always accompanies his boys.

When Concelt is Strong. Occasionally a man's conceit attains that superlative degree where he talks glibly in his own interest and calls it working for the general good.—Aetphon Globe.

MISS BETTIE EVANS HURT
